NOTE: This reprint of Beads volume 1 is identical to the original version with a few exceptions. Pages 67 and 70 have been refurbished to put Table 2 in its proper place. Several inconsistencies in table headings and scattered typographical errors have also been corrected, and a line of text that the computer opted to delete from the bottom of page 89 in the initial printing has been reinstated. All the color plates had to be redone as the color separations for the initial ones were no longer usable. This allowed captions to be added to the plates, and the color is much improved overall.

In the reports that follow, reference is made to the beads illustrated in the color plates by plate number (Pl.), row (R.) and row position (#). For example, the designation Pl. IA, R.2, #3 refers to the third bead in row 2 of Plate IA.
